

Tattoos in intimate places are like "candid photography". Both are a perfectly appropriate ways to please a partner. However; when flaunted in publicly by a mom who has abdicated her parental responsibilities, they are symptomatic of character flaws.